Your Weekly Access to SAIA News, Training, Events & More!

REGISTER NOW FOR OSHA'S ANNUAL SAFE + SOUND WEEK

Registration is now open for Safe + Sound Week being held August 13-19, 2018.

This nationwide event is an opportunity to raise awareness and understanding of the importance of workplace safety and health programs.

By participating in the week-long event, your organization or business will be showing its commitment to proactively identifying and managing hazards in the workplace before fatalities, injuries, and/or illnesses occur.

To register and get access to resources and tools that will help you plan your event, go to Safe + Sound Home Page.

Want more information before signing up? An upcoming webinar presents additional information on the event, participating, and how to best utilize all the resources available to you.

This live webinar, Safe+ Sound Week 2018 – Are You Ready to Show Your Commitment to Safety?, is scheduled for Tuesday, June 26, from 1-2 p.m. EDT.

THE CENTER FOR CONSTRUCTION RESEARCH AND TRAINING

The Center for Construction Research and Training (CPWR) is conducting a survey to find out if safety and health research is: (1) having an impact out in the field, and (2) being used on job sites.

The survey is short – only one question – and completely anonymous. Following the survey, you will be asked about volunteering to help with next steps. This is completely optional and separate from the survey, but you will be asked for an email here.

By participating in the survey, you will be furthering the mission of improving safety and health in the construction industry!

ANNUAL CONVENTION: SPOTLIGHT ON SPEAKERS

The SAIA 2018 Annual Convention & Exposition is just around the corner. If you're still on the fence about coming to the scaffold and access industry's one-of-a-kind event, then check out the some of the presentations you'd be missing out on:

Michael Leadbetter

Industrial Revolution Disruption and What It Means for You

Whether we are aware of it or not, we are in the 4th Industrial Revolution and digital, physical and biological boundaries are being blurred.

Like all industries, construction is a target for disruption. That disruption will be fueled by exponentially developing technologies such as AI, new business models and new market entrants.

Cameron Lindsey

Fraud in the Construction Industry – Can It Happen to You?

The potential for fraud is widespread in the construction industry, due to the amount of money required, the number of parties involved, and the overall complexity of construction projects.

This presentation describes the industry's most prevalent fraud schemes and provides strategies for their prevention and detection.

CER has delivered scaffolding products to thousands of customers across the state of Florida for more than 30 years.

With the merger, Stone Mountain expands its range of products by adding swing stage and suspended scaffolding to their already diverse mix of offerings.

While CER's customers will now have access to a wider group of scaffolding and access products and services, Stone Mountain will have the capability to move into the Floridian markets.

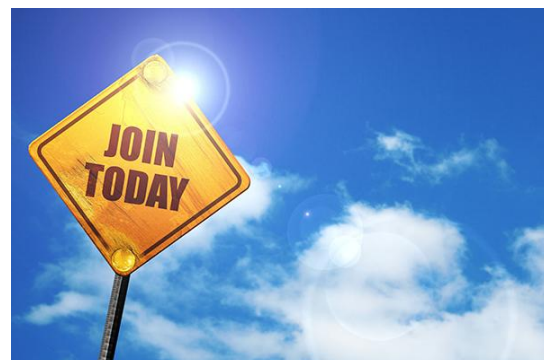

More information on the acquisition and combined mix of offerings is available on Stone Mountain's website.
